THE ICE HUT AND THE BARK COTTAGE

A Classic Woodland Fable on Solid Foundations, Kindness, and Clear Boundaries

✦ Foreword by Zinaida Jupiter, DBA ✦

Dear Reader—both Young and Grown-Up! Every classic fairy tale holds two golden keys: one for a child discovering the rules of kindness and courage, and one for parents building a warm, resilient family home.

How to Read This Book as a Family (3 Steps in 15 Minutes):
1. Pages 2–6: Read the five illustrated story sheets aloud and trace how each choice changes the heroes' path.
2. Pages 7–9: Discuss the Three Questions, play the interactive "Three Roads" game, and seal the Two Wise Vows.
3. Pages 10–12: Explore the Family Wisdom Matrix (where the winning answer always shines in the Top-Right Quadrant ★!) and the Parent's Guide.

❧ Sheet I. Two Cottages at the Edge of the Winter Forest ❧

At the edge of a sparkling birch forest lived the Fox and the Hare. As autumn leaves fell, the boastful Fox fashioned a glittering palace of river ice, while the patient Hare worked from dawn till dusk building a sturdy cottage of seasoned timber and warm linden bark.

All winter long the Fox teased her neighbour: 'Look how my crystal walls shine in the sun, while your bark roof looks plain and humble!' The Hare only smiled and stacked dry birch logs beside his brick stove.

❧ Sheet II. Spring Sun and the Creeping Request ('Just Onto the Porch!') ❧

When April sunshine warmed the woods, the Hare's timber cottage stood dry and fragrant, while the Fox's icy palace melted into a puddle on the grass.

Shivering, the Fox knocked at the Hare's window: 'Dear Hare, let me warm my paws just on your porch!' The kind Hare opened the door—and by evening the Fox had climbed onto the warm stove and chased the rightful owner out into the cold.

❧ Sheet III. Loud Titles That Retreat at the First Growl ❧

Weeping beside the forest path, the little Hare met the Grey Wolf and then the great Brown Bear. Both promised loudly: 'Stop crying, little Hare! With our mighty fangs and roaring voices, we will drive that Fox out in a heartbeat!'

Yet the moment the Fox shouted fiercely from the warm stove, both the Wolf and the Bear trembled, made excuses, and hurried back into the woods. Status without persistence could not reclaim the home.

❧ Sheet IV. The Golden Rooster and the Trumpet of Truth ❧

Along came the brisk Golden Rooster wearing tall red boots and carrying a shining brass Trumpet of Truth and the Charter of the Forest Council: 'Dry your tears, brother Hare! Right is on your side—let us march to your cottage together!'

Ignoring the Fox's bluster, the Rooster stepped firmly onto the porch, sounded his clear golden trumpet, and proclaimed twice that unlawful seizure would face the entire forest assembly before noon.

❧ Sheet V. Justice Restored and the Charter on the Oak Door ❧

Hearing the unwavering voice of law and seeing the whole woodland gathering behind the Rooster, the Fox lost all her bravado, leaped out the window, and fled into the distant hills.

The Hare welcomed the brave Rooster to a steaming samovar, and on his oak door he carved the golden rule of hospitality: 'A kind heart opens the door to guests, but clear rules protect the hearth!'

“A warm heart welcomes a guest to the table, while clear boundaries keep the home safe.”

THE GOLDEN KEY TO THE TALE

Three Questions for a Warm Conversation with Your Child

✦ Why This Happens in Real Life ✦

"A warm heart welcomes a guest to the table, while clear boundaries keep the home safe."

1. Why did the Fox's glittering house melt while the Hare's cottage stood firm?

What is the difference between doing something just to show off quickly and building something with patience and care?

2. How did the Fox take over the cottage step by step?

She asked first for the porch, then the bench, then the stove. Why is it kind to share, yet wise to state clear rules from the start?

3. Why did the small Rooster succeed where the big Bear failed?

What matters more when defending fairness—a loud boast from afar, or calm, determined courage that goes all the way?

THE GAME OF “THREE ROADS”

Find the Wise Choice Together and Sketch Your Victory!

Imagine This Real-Life Situation:

A classmate asks to borrow your favourite coloured pencils 'just for one minute,' and then keeps your whole pencil case on their desk and refuses to give it back.

1. Path 1 (Silent Tears in the Corner): Cry quietly and give up your pencils because you are afraid to speak up.
2. Path 2 (Loud Shouting & Pushing): Start a noisy fight that gets both of you in trouble without solving the rule.
3. ★ Path 3 — The Wise Choice (The Rooster's Clear Voice!): Speak calmly, firmly, and openly—and if needed, invite the teacher or fair mediator: 'I gladly shared for one drawing, and now it is time to return my case to my desk.'

❖ Creative Task: Draw the Hare's cosy wooden bark cottage with the brave Golden Rooster and the House Charter of Friendship on the oak door!

TWO WISE VOWS OF THE READER

Golden Habits Created by This Tale

✦ First Wise Vow ✦

“Build on solid bark, not melting ice”

In schoolwork, craft, and promises, choose lasting quality over flashy shortcuts.

✦ Second Wise Vow ✦

“Kindness and firm boundaries walk together”

Sharing with friends is wonderful when everyone respects the owner and the rules of the home.

MAP OF THE FOUR PATHS

Why the Winning Answer Always Lives in the Top-Right Quadrant (★)

↑ KINDNESS & WARMTH OF HEART →

Lesson II • Naive Surrender of the Home

Being so afraid to say 'no' to pushy guests that you lose your own peace and room.

★ WARM HEARTH WITH STRONG WALLS

A generous, welcoming home where clear rules and brave mutual support protect everyone.

Lesson I • The Melting Ice Palace

Boasting without effort and then trying to solve problems at someone else's expense.

Lesson III • Locked Fortress Without Friends

Keeping the door bolted out of fear and never sharing tea or joy with neighbours.

← Unprotected Porch (No Rules) CLEAR BOUNDARIES & COURAGE Firm Rules & Fair Voice →

✦ How to Show Your Child the Map of Four Paths ✦

Point to the four squares together: when we drop either axis—losing either personal responsibility or warmth toward loved ones—we slip into one of the three traps. Only when both axes reach their peak do we enter the Top-Right Quadrant (★), where the whole family wins!

THREE RULES OF A WARM HOME

Psychological & Pedagogical Guide for Parents

Rule 1. Teach the Child the Right to Say 'Stop'

A polite child does not have to surrender their personal space or belongings to a pushy peer.

Rule 2. Agree on Return Terms Before Lending

Teach the simple formula: 'I am happy to lend this until 5 o'clock, and then it returns to its shelf.'

Rule 3. Be Your Child's Golden Rooster

Never dismiss a child's boundary problem—show them how calm, lawful persistence restores fairness.

✦ Why Fairy-Tale Metaphors Work Faster Than Lectures ✦

Direct scolding triggers defensiveness in a child's brain, whereas a shared fairy-tale image turns correction into a friendly smile: one warm reference to the story's heroes resolves tension in seconds!

EVERYDAY TRANSLATION TABLE FOR PARENTS

How to Replace Scolding with the Language of the Tale

Everyday Moment	Common Trap (Quadrants 1–3)	★ Wise Top-Right Response
Guest child grabs toys without asking	Scold your own child: 'Don't be greedy, give it up!'	"In our home we share gladly by agreement: let's play together for 15 minutes, then return it to the shelf."
Child builds a rushed, messy project	Do the project for them at midnight.	"Remember the Ice Hut and the Bark Cottage—let's spend 20 calm minutes making the base sturdy."
Relatives or acquaintances overstep family schedule	Suffer silently and resent them for months.	State warmly and firmly: "We love seeing you on Sunday at four; weekday evenings are our family quiet time."
