KOLOBOK: THE ROLLING BUN

A Classic Woodland Fable on Vigilance, Humility, and Seeing Through Flattery

✦ Foreword by Zinaida Jupiter, DBA ✦

Dear Reader—both Young and Grown-Up! Every classic fairy tale holds two golden keys: one for a child discovering the rules of kindness and courage, and one for parents building a warm, resilient family home.

How to Read This Book as a Family (3 Steps in 15 Minutes):
1. Pages 2–6: Read the five illustrated story sheets aloud and trace how each choice changes the heroes' path.
2. Pages 7–9: Discuss the Three Questions, play the interactive "Three Roads" game, and seal the Two Wise Vows.
3. Pages 10–12: Explore the Family Wisdom Matrix (where the winning answer always shines in the Top-Right Quadrant ★!) and the Parent's Guide.

❧ Sheet I. Fresh from the Oven and Impatient on the Windowsill ❧

Once upon a time an old Grandfather and Grandmother baked a round, golden, fragrant bun—Kolobok—brushed with melted butter and placed him on the cottage windowsill to cool.

Growing impatient with the quiet yard, Kolobok rolled from the sill to the bench, from the bench to the grass, and out through the garden gate onto the winding forest road without telling his family.

❧ Sheet II. Outrunning the Hare and the Wolf ❧

Along the path he met the Little Hare and then the Grey Wolf, each ready to gobble him up. Yet Kolobok sang his cheerful boasting song and rolled briskly past their paws before they could blink.

With every easy escape his chest swelled with pride: he began to believe that no danger in the world could ever touch him.

❧ Sheet III. Outrunning the Bear and the Peak of Overconfidence ❧

When even the clumsy Brown Bear failed to catch him among the pines, Kolobok's confidence turned into dizziness: 'I left Grandfather, I left Grandmother, and I outsmarted every beast in the woods!'

He no longer watched the road ahead, sure that his own clever song made him invincible.

❧ Sheet IV. The Fox Who Did Not Threaten—She Praised! ❧

Then out stepped the sleek Red Fox. Unlike the Wolf and the Bear, she did not growl or bare her teeth. Instead, she smiled sweetly: 'Oh, Kolobok, what a rosy, golden crust you have, and what a marvellous voice! Only I have grown a little hard of hearing—hop onto my nose and sing your song one more time!'

Enchanted by the sweet flattery, Kolobok forgot every caution and leaped straight onto the Fox's nose.

❧ Sheet V. The Baker's Lesson: Stay Connected to Your Safe Base ❧

In the old tale, that single leap onto the flatterer's nose ends Kolobok's journey. In our family wisdom lesson, we pause right at that threshold to learn the shield that saves every traveller: never roll away without telling your family, never let past victories blind your eyes, and remember that whenever someone praises you too sweetly while asking you to step closer to danger—step back to safe ground immediately!

THE GOLDEN KEY TO THE TALE

Three Questions for a Warm Conversation with Your Child

✦ Why This Happens in Real Life ✦

“A fierce growl puts you on guard, but sweet flattery puts vigilance to sleep.”

1. How was the Fox's trick different from the Wolf and the Bear?

The Wolf and Bear growled openly, while the Fox used sweet compliments. Why is flattery harder to spot than anger?

2. Why did Kolobok believe the Fox so easily?

How did winning three times in a row make him stop paying attention to safety rules?

3. What is the 'Fox's Nose' rule for kids today?

If a stranger on the street or online praises you and asks you to come closer or keep a secret from parents, what do you do in one second?

THE GAME OF “THREE ROADS”

Find the Wise Choice Together and Sketch Your Victory!

Imagine This Real-Life Situation:

Someone you barely know—in the park or in an online game—praises how smart and grown-up you are and asks you to step away from your parents or share your home address.

1. Path 1 (Kolobok on the Fox's Nose): Feel proud of the compliment and do what they ask without checking.

2. Path 2 (Rolling Away Alone Without Telling Parents): Wander off into unfamiliar places thinking 'I already know everything!'

3. ★ Path 3 — The Wise Choice (Clear Eyes & Safe Home Base!): Recognize the 'Fox's compliment' right away, step back, and tell your parents immediately!

❖ Creative Task: Draw Kolobok choosing the safe road back to Grandfather and Grandmother's cottage with a bright lantern of wisdom!

TWO WISE VOWS OF THE READER

Golden Habits Created by This Tale

✦ First Wise Vow ✦

“Never leave the windowsill without agreement”

Always let your parents know where you are going and with whom.

✦ Second Wise Vow ✦

“Compliments + Secrecy = Step Back!”

True friends never ask you to hide things from your family or step onto a 'Fox's nose.'

MAP OF THE FOUR PATHS

Why the Winning Answer Always Lives in the Top-Right Quadrant (★)

↑ CONNECTION TO FAMILY & SAFETY RULES →

Lesson II • Warm Child Easily Flattered

Loves the family, yet forgets caution the moment a peer or stranger offers sweet praise.

★ CONFIDENT & SAFE EXPLORER

Joyful talent and independence grounded in strong family ties and immunity to manipulation.

Lesson I • Rolling Onto the Fox's Nose

Running away from home rules and falling for the first sweet-talking manipulator.

Lesson III • Fearful Sitting Behind Shutters

Safe indoors, yet afraid to learn, sing, or make real friends.

← Blind Vanity (Believing Flattery) SOBER SELF-AWARENESS & VIGILANCE Clear Eyes & Critical Thinking →

✦ How to Show Your Child the Map of Four Paths ✦

Point to the four squares together: when we drop either axis—losing either personal responsibility or warmth toward loved ones—we slip into one of the three traps. Only when both axes reach their peak do we enter the Top-Right Quadrant (★), where the whole family wins!

THREE RULES OF A WARM HOME

Psychological & Pedagogical Guide for Parents

Rule 1. Teach Social-Engineering Immunity Early

Explain that manipulative people rarely look scary—they look charming, praise you, and ask for a small favour.

Rule 2. Praise Effort and Character, Not Vanity

When children feel genuinely valued at home, they do not hunger for cheap flattery outside.

Rule 3. Keep the Return Path Open

Make sure your child knows they can call you from any situation and will be met with help, not anger.

✦ Why Fairy-Tale Metaphors Work Faster Than Lectures ✦

Direct scolding triggers defensiveness in a child's brain, whereas a shared fairy-tale image turns correction into a friendly smile: one warm reference to the story's heroes resolves tension in seconds!

EVERYDAY TRANSLATION TABLE FOR PARENTS

How to Replace Scolding with the Language of the Tale

Everyday Moment	Common Trap (Quadrants 1–3)	★ Wise Top-Right Response
Child boasts 'I know everything, I don't need rules!'	Scold or frighten them.	“Remember Kolobok after meeting the Bear—success is wonderful, and that's the exact moment to keep your eyes sharpest!”
Someone online flatters the child and asks for a photo/address	Ban all devices without explanation.	“That's the Fox saying 'Hop onto my nose!' Thank you for showing me—let's block it together.”
Child wants to walk a new route alone	Say 'No, it's dangerous everywhere!'	Walk the route together, agree on check-in points, and practice the safety code.
