TEREMOK: THE WOODLAND HOUSE

A Classic Folk Tale on Teamwork, Complementary Talents, and Scaling Together

✦ Foreword by Zinaida Jupiter, DBA ✦

Dear Reader—both Young and Grown-Up! Every classic fairy tale holds two golden keys: one for a child discovering the rules of kindness and courage, and one for parents building a warm, resilient family home.

How to Read This Book as a Family (3 Steps in 15 Minutes):
1. Pages 2–6: Read the five illustrated story sheets aloud and trace how each choice changes the heroes' path.
2. Pages 7–9: Discuss the Three Questions, play the interactive "Three Roads" game, and seal the Two Wise Vows.
3. Pages 10–12: Explore the Family Wisdom Matrix (where the winning answer always shines in the Top-Right Quadrant ★!) and the Parent's Guide.

🔑 The Golden Key of the Tale (What to Watch For)

"Where five talents share the chores, a cosy cottage stands; when the sixth is a giant, build a bigger hall together!"

Proverb of the Book: "Where five talents share the chores, a cosy cottage stands; when the sixth is a giant, build a bigger hall together!"

❧ Sheet I. The Little Woodland House and the First Founders ❧

In a bright clearing stood a carved wooden cottage—Teremok, neither low nor high. Little Mouse-Norushka ran past, knocked at the door—'Little house, little house, who lives in the Teremok?'—and finding it empty, moved in to sweep the floors and light the stove.

Soon Frog-Kvakushka hopped up, and then Runaway Bunny joined them. Each asked politely at the threshold, declared their helpful craft, and made the house warmer and merrier.

❧ Sheet II. Every Resident Brings a Unique Skill ❧

Next came Sister Fox in her russet coat and Grey Wolf-Click-Teeth. Instead of turning anyone away or quarrelling over space, the friends asked what each newcomer could contribute.

Mouse ground the flour and baked pies, Frog brought fresh spring water, Bunny gathered firewood, Fox kept the yard tidy, and Wolf stood guard at the gate—five different talents working as one harmonious family!

❧ Sheet III. The Giant Bear Climbs onto the Fragile Roof ❧

Suddenly heavy footsteps shook the forest path, and Clubfoot Bear lumbered out of the pines: 'Who lives in the Teremok? I want to live with you too!'

Seeing that the little doorway was far too narrow for his broad shoulders, the Bear did not stop to think how to expand the cottage—instead he climbed straight onto the carved wooden roof: 'I shall sit right here on top!'

❧ Sheet IV. The Crash of the Overloaded Roof ❧

With a loud creak and a crack, the beams gave way beneath the Bear's massive weight! Fortunately, the nimble woodland friends leaped safely out through the windows and doors just before the old Teremok collapsed into a pile of logs.

Sitting on the grass, the Bear rubbed his forehead in shame: 'Forgive me, friends! My strength was meant for lifting logs, not for sitting on a fragile roof.'

❧ Sheet V. Building the New Two-Storey Teremok Together ❧

Instead of scattering in tears, the six friends united their skills: the Bear hauled giant cedar logs, the Wolf and Fox raised the walls, the Bunny and Frog laid the high roof, and the Mouse arranged the warm hearth inside.

And the new Teremok rose twice as tall, sturdy, and spacious—proving that when every talent has its rightful role and the house grows alongside the team, everyone thrives under one roof!

"Where five talents share the chores, a cosy cottage stands; when the sixth is a giant, build a bigger hall together!"

THE GOLDEN KEY TO THE TALE

Three Questions for a Warm Conversation with Your Child

✦ Why This Happens in Real Life ✦

"Where five talents share the chores, a cosy cottage stands; when the sixth is a giant, build a bigger hall together!"

1. How did five very different animals live together so happily in the first Teremok?

Why is a family or team stronger when each person has their own helpful job instead of everyone doing the same thing?

2. Was the Bear evil when he broke the roof?

He wanted to be friends! What mistake did he make by climbing onto the old roof instead of offering his strength to build an extension?

3. What did the friends do after the old house fell?

Did they sit crying on the logs, or did they use the Bear's huge strength to build an even better Teremok?

THE GAME OF “THREE ROADS”

Find the Wise Choice Together and Sketch Your Victory!

Imagine This Real-Life Situation:

You and your friends have built a small fort out of chairs, and a taller sibling or neighbour comes over wanting to squeeze right on top of it.

1. Path 1 (Chasing Away): Shout angrily and refuse to play with the newcomer at all.
2. Path 2 (Crushing the Roof): Let them climb straight onto the fragile chairs until everything collapses and everyone cries.
3. ★ Path 3 — The Wise Choice (The New Grand Teremok!): Say warmly: 'Our little roof won't hold your size, so let's use your tall reach to build a giant two-room fortress together!'

❖ Creative Task: Draw the new grand two-storey Teremok where Mouse, Frog, Bunny, Fox, Wolf, and Bear each have a cosy window and a helpful job!

TWO WISE VOWS OF THE READER

Golden Habits Created by This Tale

✦ First Wise Vow ✦

“Bring your own helpful gift to every home and team”

Ask 'How can I help inside the Teremok?' whenever you join a game or family chore.

✦ Second Wise Vow ✦

“When the team grows, upgrade the house together”

Never force a big new task onto a fragile old shelf—redesign the space so everyone fits.

MAP OF THE FOUR PATHS

Why the Winning Answer Always Lives in the Top-Right Quadrant (★)

↑ TEAM SPIRIT & MUTUAL HELP →

Lesson II • Bear on the Fragile Roof

Good intentions and big energy applied in the wrong place—crushing what others built.

★ THE NEW GRAND TEREMOK

Every member brings a distinct gift, and when the family grows, we build a stronger house together.

Lesson I • Quarrel at the Threshold

Refusing to share chores or let anyone help.

Lesson III • Crowded but Cramped

Living politely together without ever upgrading the space or tools as children grow.

← Chaos & Wrong Roles ('Bear on the Roof') CLEAR ROLES & ARCHITECTURAL FIT Each Talent in Its Rightful Place →

✦ How to Show Your Child the Map of Four Paths ✦

Point to the four squares together: when we drop either axis—losing either personal responsibility or warmth toward loved ones—we slip into one of the three traps. Only when both axes reach their peak do we enter the Top-Right Quadrant (★), where the whole family wins!

THREE RULES OF A WARM HOME

Psychological & Pedagogical Guide for Parents

Rule 1. The Teremok Threshold Question: 'What Is Your Superpower?'

Give every child a clear, respected household role that matches their age and talent.

Rule 2. Direct Big Energy into Building, Not Sitting on the Roof

When an active child or adult bursts into a quiet game, channel their strength into hauling the 'heavy logs.'

Rule 3. Upgrade Family Rules as Children Grow

What worked for a five-year-old cottage needs a 'second storey' when children become teenagers.

✦ Why Fairy-Tale Metaphors Work Faster Than Lectures ✦

Direct scolding triggers defensiveness in a child's brain, whereas a shared fairy-tale image turns correction into a friendly smile: one warm reference to the story's heroes resolves tension in seconds!

EVERYDAY TRANSLATION TABLE FOR PARENTS

How to Replace Scolding with the Language of the Tale

Everyday Moment	Common Trap (Quadrants 1–3)	★ Wise Top-Right Response
Older sibling accidentally ruins a younger child's block tower while trying to join	Scold the older sibling and end the game.	"Looks like Clubfoot Bear sat on the roof! Let's use the Bear's strong paws to help build a tower twice as tall."
One parent or child feels they do all the housework alone	Complain in exhaustion.	Hold a 'Teremok Council' and distribute roles clearly: who is Mouse at the stove, who is Bunny with supplies.
Family routine breaks down when new school activities start	Blame each other for being late.	"Our Teremok has grown—let's rebuild our weekly schedule so the roof holds!"
